TUBB 2000 w/accessories

Here's what I can tell you about it and what it has with it:

2 barrels: rifle is currently with a Schneider 1-8 twist in 6mmX with installed SightLine extension tube; 1 ready-to-install (chambered, threaded, finished, headspaced) Schneider polygon in 6XC with pre-installed SightLine extension tube

Action wrench for barrel swap

4 10-round SR25 magazines, stamped "McMillan." These have been hand-tuned for fit and function by David Tubb

1 Delrin loading block insert, modified by David Tubb with hand-hold attachment (NRA legal)

Texas Tall Boy RPA front sight base, 22mm globe with level (no sighting insert)

Precision ground rear sight base

Warner #1 rear sight, no iris insert (inserts for front and rear are available at extra cost).

2 extra complete buttstock assemblies (no adjustment going from position to position, total of 3 so just swap them out standing to sitting to prone). Two don't match the rifle color but are unused. One has sandbag "rider" for benchrest.

4 different polymer "SofShot" inserts to really fine-tune rebound, including the super-stiff black (great for prone).

2 T2K laminated wood grips in blue

T2K knurled trigger post

Firing pin tool (to disassemble the bolt); spare extractor; cleaning rod guide; has CS striker spring installed

2 position-adjustable forend weights; plus original adjustable handstop with sling swivel

Action has been hand-tuned for function by David Tubb; it's very slick! Also has the adjustable-length knob spacer screw.

Brass and dies for both cartridges (brass is new WW .22-.250 and must be fire formed, which is very easy -- just run it through the sizing die and fire away for either cartridge option); about 400 cases. Bullets are available.

How much? A lot. Creedmoor has them listed new now for $4950.00, and that's a rifle with two magazines, the single-round loading block, no sights, not much else. Get a calculator and total it up and you'll see it's a very good deal (there's about $2800 worth of accessories, or a total of $7800 at today's prices on all this new). Other things are available.

Complete Package Price is $6200.00 [plus shipping] That's the rifle with sights, an extra barrel, and a total of three buttstocks, plus. I don't want to part it out! If you are a serious High Power shooter and want the most serious across-the-course set up imaginable, this would be it. It's "turn-key," except you'll need to put sighting irises in it.
